WORTHY OF PRAISE – VOLUME IV

Three of the many reasons why we love R-Bistro and chef Regina Mehallick...

HER INNOVATIVE AND ROTATING MENU...

...Whether you are dining at lunch or at dinnertime, placing yourselves on her e-mail update list or checking her website is sound advice, because the menu changes weekly. Very few restaurants rotate their fare as much as Regina, and the description of each entrée is artistry in itself. There are a few favorites that tend to remain on the menu. Don't miss these signature lunch items: Warm apple wood smoked bacon, watercress, avocado & tomato chutney panini or the Grilled Indiana Canadian bacon with organic poached eggs & fried potatoes

HER INGREDIENTS ARE FRESH FROM THE FARMER...

...Hence the primary reason for the rotating menu. As it says on her website, "you just can't grow a great tomato in January". By incorporating locally-raised, organic meats and produce, Regina keeps her menu fresh (and healthy for you), while supporting the local farmers. How great is that?

SHE'S A MASS AVENUE ARTS DISTRICT "TRAILBLAZER"...

...Before the downtown housing craze had taken off and galleries flanked each corner of the trendy Mass Avenue corridor, there was R-Bistro, quietly tucked away at the far northern end of the arts district. Never mind that yours truly had the privilege of assisting Jim McQuiston in the interior design of the restaurant (look at me, shamelessly name dropping!). This urban escape has just the right atmosphere for your casual business lunch or your special night out on the town. Ask to meet Regina, she loves to buzz around the dining room and meet her guests! Tell her The Eriksen Group sent you!
